The Serate committee appointed for the purpose of drafting a bill to be considered by the next congress which will provide for the regulation and control of rates, has been giving hearings to the representatives of the shipping and railroad interests of the country and some very interesting and startling things have come to light in the testimony given before that committee by the representatives of the interests mentioned. The railroad interests are strongly opsentiment is with the president and lower house in these fight for a strong measure, similar to the Esch-Townsend bill, and that the senate wont dare stand out against the passage of some sort of a measure, hence they are forced to make a pretense of being in favor of a "reasonable" measure. A "reasonable" bill for the railroads would be to retain the law as it is at present, changing it, of course, slightly in form in order to satisfy the public that some railroad legislation had been enacted. What he rallroads emtestimony given before the committee feast-a famous feast. reveals the fact that mileage has very little consideration in the compilation of cities against the smaller cities and gives from Dodge were too late. them a decided advantage. Under this way of fixing the rates the railroads will shippers from the favored points against the Esch-Townsend bill. They admit present system of rates is satisfactory and Hope beams upon every countenance. declare they desire no legislation looking to the change or control of rates. The favored shippers have not helped the mined that some adequate remedy shall be found to regulate and control the exorbitant charges and unfair rebates and discriminations that are being practiced by the railroads and kindred corporations.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of rour liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, billousness, nauces, dyspopsia, and thus preventing the Saraparilia from doing its best work. Ayer's "lils are liver pills. Act gently, all vegetable. The dose is only one pill at bedtime.

In the manufacture of silk the United States has become the second country in the world, says the Globe-Democrat, France only leading it now. Seventenths of the silk goods sold in our markets, and nearly nine-tenths of silk ribbons, are of American manufacture. In 1860 only 13 percent of the silk used here was manufactured at home. The conntry in 1900 imported more raw silk from China than the whole of Europe, outside of France. In the same year the silk manufactories in the United States numbered 483, employing 65,500 hands and producing goods worth $107,250,000. Importation of finished silks have fallen off. and Americans are competing for the silk trade in many foreign countries. But raw silk is coming in to the extent of $45,000,000 a year. The present great production of manufactured silk goods would have been impossible without a protective tariff, and by the same method Web T. Roth, H 26th Iowa Inf., is the wages of American silk workers have viewing facts of this nature from time to made perseveringly made prominent, for ingenious and the goods turned out are silk industry within our own national boundaries."

SIGNALING WITH THE DRUM

Also, How an Umbrella Supplanted

Wireless Telegraphy. The natives of the West Coast of Africa have little need for wireless telegraph, according to a story told by a missionary at the rooms of the Presbyterian Foreign Board. Talking of the susceptibility of the native African to rythm he told this incident: The African always calls the people together by means of a drum. The drum varies in size, but is always made by hollowing out a section of a log. The drum not only tells the people of the meeting, but its purpose as well. The news which may be thus sent is astonishing. On one occasion a missionary was in the Palaver House at Efulen, at some distance from his home. A rainstorm came up and he had no umbrella. A orummer, learning his need, tapped a message to a friend and in a short time the latter appeared with an umbrella. The natives have no alphabet and an umbrella is not usually in the requirements of a palaver. How, then did the drummer make himself understood? During native wars the government has to prohibit the use of drums as the natives are able with them to send news from one village to another.
